PRINCE ALBERT, JAN. 22, 1895.

AN INVITATION.

The attempt of the United States to coerce the Dominion of Canada into annexation by intimidation and by doing their level best to hamper the trade relations between themselves and us, and further resorting to petty annoyances, unworthy of a great nation, having failed to force us into political union with them; are now going to try what effect flattery will have. On the 18th of last month a Mr. Gallinger, one of the United States senators, submitted the following resolution in the U.S. Senate.

Whereas we believe that the political union of the two great English speaking communities who now occupy and control North America will deliver the continent from the danger of war and securely establish peace, industry and progress; lessen the per capita cost of government and defense; ensure the rapid development of its boundless natural resources; enlarge its domestic and foreign commerce; unite all interests in creating a systematic development of its means of internal communication with the railroad by rail and water east and west; protect and preserve its wealth, resources, privileges, and opportunities as the undisputed heritage of all; immensely add to its influence, prestige and power; promote, extend, and perpetuate government by the people, and remove forever the causes most likely to seriously disturb cordial relations and kindly intercourse with the motherland: Therefore,

Resolved, That we invite the Canadian people to cast in their lot with their own continent, and assure them that they will have all the continent can give them. We will respect their freedom of action, and welcome them when they desire it to an equal and honorable union.

To the careful observer one cannot see anything akin to the idea, and the fly tale which often appears in our school books. There are a sort of possible blandishments displayed which will accord with spirit shown either to us or to our mother country during the past. But lying these aside, let us as thinking individuals consider what advantage is to be derived from political union with our neighbors south of us. We know the advantages we possess at present as an appendage of the British Empire. We have just laws which are on the whole administered impartially, we are free from mob rule and lynch law, our citizens are on the whole peaceable and law abiding, pistol shooting among us is almost if not wholly unknown. Anarchy and socialism have not found a footing here; our commercial interests, though like other places is somewhat depressed, but not more so than there and our public business is always conducted in an orderly manner without strife and bloodshed. The Sabbath is not desecrated by beer drinking in public and unwholesome amusements. Upon the whole we are a church going people. Above all, we are citizens of the great, the noble and the best Empire that the world has ever seen either in ancient or modern times. We have religion without persecution and liberty without license. On the other hand what do we see that is for a public good in the United States that we do not possess ourselves in a more marked degree. Compare our social state in this Dominion with that of the United States. The whole social system is permeated with anarchy, socialism, infidelity and unbridled license. Even the commercial standing is at a very low ebb, and notwithstanding the plausible coloring given to it in the above resolution, it is in times more in a worse state than our own. But enough said. Annexation to the United States will never come, pass, we have a higher and nobler destiny before us, in being part of the Empire of the confederated British Empire, whose dominions the sun never sets. No, no it can never be that we will desert the old flag. Now we are not a people for the sake of a prophet but we will venture to make a prediction which will take place at no distant date; and that is within the short space of fifty years the United States will come humbly kneeling down to us and begging to be admitted into the mighty confederation of the British Empire. This is the fixed belief of many thinking men both in Great Britain and in the United States itself. The growing discontent and lawlessness in the United States will increase in intensity until the whole civil fabric is overthrown, so much that Great Britain will be called in to take the country and bring order out of chaos. This is no dreaming idle fancy, but an event that will as surely come to pass as the sun shining.

At our civic election on Monday week, all sorts of persuasions were employed in order to place Mr. McPhail as the top of the ladder, but without success. Among the rest there was a certain individual of some sort of teutonic descent; who in want of anything truthful to bring grist to McPhail's mill, went about in a snake like fashion whispering to the electors that it was useless to vote for Mr. Davis as that gentleman intended to resign his position as mayor even if elected. This coming to the ears of Mr. Davis he promptly sought out this snake in the grass and challenged him with uttering an untruth. The cowardly creature denied having said anything of the kind, but Mr. Davis quickly brought the low sneak face to face with those to whom he had been imparting his falsehoods. The cowardly slanderer, finding himself cornered, slunk out of sight like a whipped cur. We have said before and say now again that things, we can not call them men, of this description are a blot upon society. Creatures with little or no education and void of a well balanced brain, by hook or by crook get themselves in some sort of position where they fancy that they have a mission to perform in moulding public opinion, while at the same time, their distortion of facts and want of veracity render them the pestilences of society. The only redeeming feature about those creatures is that those who endeavor to obtain positions in society by employing these would be judges of public opinion, generally get left to chew the cud of bitter disappointment which they richly deserve. Birds of a feather generally flock together and a man is known by the company he keeps, and those who take into their confidence worthless characters in order to hoist themselves into public position are unworthy the attention of honest men. If liars would only discard low and untrustworthy characters and all fawning sycophants and identify themselves with reliable men, their chances of success would be greatly enhanced, or even if they lost, they would have the satisfaction of knowing that they used no surreptitious means or unworthy persons to attain their ends.

The Southern cotton growers, in convention at Meriden, Miss., have decided that fifty cents a day is fit wages for a male and forty cents for a female laborer in the cotton fields. Living would need to be cheap down in Dixie, for certainly men and women are.

In Bowmanville on Monday the municipal election turned on the question whether or not cows should be allowed to feed on the streets, and the friends of bovine freedom won. In Bowmanville what is good enough for a man is counted good enough for his beast.

The Emperor William in giving his officers some New Year's advice dwelt on the importance of their exercising economy in their expenditure. The suggestion is so good and so timely that nobody probably will feel inclined in return to advise His Majesty to observe economy in his talk, which is copious to the verge of extravagance.

The movement of population from the country to the town is attracting renewed attention in England. In Canada and the United States, where it is also noticeable, is absorbed by free traders to the operation of protection. It would puzzle the theorists to fit this reason to the fiscal conditions of the mother land.

The young Czar is reported to have struck his pen through the column setting forth the religious faith of a number of persons recommended to him for appointment to office. If he keeps enough ink on that pen to cancel the edicts that make the life of some of his subjects miserable because they are of the Jewish faith, he will do Russia one of the greatest services rendered since the serfs were freed.

Judging from the signs of the times Mexico and Guatemala may soon be at war. The Universal Peace society is right in sending a delegation to express its views as to the wickedness of war on an American republic. It is the fraternity of American republics that need peace lessons most.

"Dick's Blood Purifier" is the best of all the condition powders I ever used. It makes a horse thrive and feel well, improves his coat and keeps him perfectly clean in the legs, no matter how long he stands in the stable. I gave half of the first box to a gentleman who had a fine trotting stallion that had swollen in the legs, and had scratches from being out of condition, and in a few days his legs were perfectly clean, and the cracks healed.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Soller, Alcona, Pa.

Both Had Eczema In Its Worst Form

After Physicians Failed, Hood's Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cured.

Great mental agony is endured by parents who see their children suffering from diseases caused by impure blood, and for which there seems no cure. This is turned to joy when Hood's Sarsaparilla is resorted to, for it expels the food humors from the blood; and restores the diseased skin to fresh, healthy brightness. Read the following from grateful parents:

"To C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:"

"We think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most valuable medicine on the market for blood and skin diseases. Our two children suffered terribly with the

for two years. We had three physicians in that time, but neither of them succeeded in curing them or even in getting them a little relief. At last we tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a month both children were perfectly cured. We recommend as a standard family medicine, and would not be without it." Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Soller, 1412 2nd Avenue, Alcona, Pa.

HOW IS THIS ?

Something new even in these days of mammoth premium offers, it is the latest effort of Stafford's Magazine, a New York monthly of home and general reading.

The proposition is to send the Magazine one year for one dollar, the regular subscription price, and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months; one each week.

Think of it. You receive a new and complete novel, by mail, post paid, every week for fifty-two weeks, and in addition you get the magazine once a month for twelve months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publishers can only afford to make in the confident expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors of the coming series are Wilkie Collins, Walter Besant, Mrs. Oliphant, Mary Cecil Hay, Florence Marryat, Anthony Trollope, A. Conan Doyle, Miss Bradton, Captain Marryat, Miss Thackeray and Jules Verne. If you wish to take advantage of this unusual opportunity send one dollar for Stafford's Magazine one year. Your first copy of the magazine and your first number of the fifty-two novels (one each week) which you are to receive during the year will be sent you by return mail. Remit by P.O. Adm. J. Stull, brother of Mr. Stull, Principal of our Central School, was this year re-elected an alderman for the city of Quebec by acclamation.

Mr. Justice McGuire arrived back home by Saturday's train. His Honor has apparently enjoyed his trip east amongst his many old friends, and is looking remarkably well.

Note paper, envelopes, school books and stationery of all kinds is cheaper at Baker's than any store in town.

Mr. Flanagan, of the Prince Albert Hotel, has placed a light over the main entrance to his hotel for which I deserve the thanks of those who have to travel around that corner on dark evenings. The new town council would do well by following this example on other street corners.

On Friday evening next, at the Queen's Hotel, the members of St. Andrew's society and their friends intend celebrating Burns' anniversary. Tickets can be procured from the secretary.

Cataract relieved in 10 to 60 minutes.—One short puff of the breath through the Blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Cataract Powder, diffuses this powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use, it relieves instantly, and permanently cures Cataract, Hay Fever, Colds, Headache, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis and Deafness. 50 cents. At J. G. White & Co.

Our old townman, Mr. Clayton Peterson, has been re-elected as alderman for the Royal city of Quebec. The highest vote in the ward to which he was elected was 185, "Clayton" securing 187.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.—South American Rheumatic Cure, for Rheumatism and Neuralgia, radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. Special sermons will be delivered on next two Sunday evenings by the Rev. Dr. St. Alban's as follows:—January 27, "Authority of the New Testament," February 3, "What is Inspiration."

His Worship Mayor Davis informs us that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will hold a session in the Council Chamber at the town hall on Wednesday, 33rd inst. The session will probably be opened at 11 o'clock a.m.

Letter and note pad—100 and 150 leaves each, only 15 and 10 cents; good quality of paper, not manilla wrapping at Baker's.

The greatest papers in Great Britain and the United States freely acknowledge the world's greatest paper, the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal. The Family Herald is a great newspaper and a great family paper, but it is more than that, it is one of the greatest authorities in the world on cheese, butter, general dairying, and general farming. How a progressive, up-to-date farmer can do without the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal is hard, indeed, to understand.

Friday evening last the officers of Saskatchewan Court, No. 1030, I.O.F., were installed by H.C.D. Chief Ranger Kernaghan, Bro. J. D. Maveety acting as S. M. The following are the names of those installed: A.S. Stewart, C.R. C. Boyer, V.C.R. J. F. Betts, P.C.R. W. J. Kernaghan, T. A. H. Woodman, F.S. C. R. Stovel, R. S. C. Brown, S.W. F. Clench, J.W. N. Neil, S.R. C. Cook, J. B.

The January number of "The Canadian Magazine" has a large variety of excellent and entertaining reading matter and is well illustrated. O. A. Howland, M.P.P., gives an interesting article entitled "The Fourth Century of Canadian History." G. Mercer Adams discusses charmingly British Novel and Novelists of the Last Quarter of a Century. Frank Blake of Toronto Observations, speculates on the Condition of Mar and Jupiter now prominent objects of the heavens. "The aged Mrs. Trill" a familiar long ago, from her charming description of "backwoods" life in Canada and as one of the brilliant Irish lord of the Strickland family in "An Indian Maiden's Grave" on a pathetic story of Central Ontario. M. A. Leith Wright contributes a valuable paper on "Decorative Needle Work," and J. E. Wetherill, in a full, impartial, and appreciative style, criticizes E. G. Scott's new book of poems. The illustrated article, a prose poem, "In the Land of Shalows," by Keppell Strange; "Behind the Reading Desk," by Thomas O'Hagan. The Royal Military College illustrated to Frederick Falls; "How I Killed my First Moose," an article which every sportsman will appreciate, by C. H. Goodell; and "The Canadian Thimbleweed" an article in which W. F. Maclean, M.P., with a bold hand, draws a remarkable parallel of the character and methods of Sir John Macdonald and the celebrated Grecian statesman. "Cranks," by H. Cameron; Nellie Wilson, and "My Dear Set," a strange story of a man attending his own funeral, by R. F. Dixon, contribute the contributions to fiction. "When Thane Wadeth," by Keppell Strange, is an quaint and charming verse. "Hand car No. 219," by Allan Sullivan, is a spirited bit of dialect poetry, and Philip

Geo. Taylor, of Branc peth, lost a valuable dog last week. The animal was poisoned, having picked up and eaten a "bait" carefully put out by some person at present unknown.

ST. ALBAN'S RECTORY.

At a meeting of the Church of England Temperance Society held on Friday last at the Rectory, there was a good attendance, the seating capacity being taken to its utmost. Several new pledges were taken. Tea, coffee and other refreshments were served. Musical selections were given by Mrs. Hubbell, Mrs. Moore, Miss Boyle and Miss Way, Mr. Baker and Mr. Pavier. A managing committee was elected, consisting of:—President, the Bishop; Vice President, the Rector; Secretary, Mr. Mercer. Mrs. Betts, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Northgrave, Messrs. Coombs, Taylor, Pavier and Way. The society meets monthly.

THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

The following telegram was received this afternoon from Regina by Mr. Betts and His Worship the Mayor:

The Lieutenant Governor proposes going to Prince Albert by next Thursday's train to stay Wednesday.

R. B. Gendron

As this visit will be an important one to town, we hope to see the new town council all healed by our worthy mayor, and assisted by all true citizens, united with one voice and mind to pay all honor to Her Majesty's representative, Lieut.-Governor Mackintosh, on this his first official visit to our fair town.

CARNIVAL.

A very successful carnival was held on the rink, on Wednesday evening last, under the management of Mr. Borthwick, when a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

It is to be regretted that after dark the weather turned very cold, as no doubt many more would have taken the opportunity of enjoying themselves, by being able to have a pleasant glide over the ice and also by being able to enjoy the comic antics, and lively dances of those in costume.

The Prince Albert land rendered several selections of music during the evening, which greatly helped to the success of the carnival.

The costumes in general were very grand, some especially being very artistic. It is to be regretted that the persons costumed did not leave their cards, indicating their representations, as we are only able to publish a few of the very many who appeared in costume, through this oversight; and should another carnival be held, we would suggest that this be done. The successful prize winners were the following:

Best costumed lady, Miss H. Allan, "Spanish Donna," hand satchel; best costumed gentleman, Mr. Peter Ross, "American Soldier," smoking set; best costumed girl, Miss Etta McLellan, "Highland Lassie," dressing case; best costumed boy, Master George Clarke, "Arab," stationery cabinet; best comic costume, J. E. Wigmore, "Boston Swell," shaving set.

The following are some of the characters represented: Fern McBeth, "Old Woman"; Jessie McBeth, "Spanish Gypsy"; L. McBeth, "Folly"; Mrs. A. Nelson, "Flower Girl"; Nellie Cassie, "Bohemian Girl"; Lina Lee and Miss Allan, "Gypsy Girls"; Mrs. Hubbell, "Stars and Stripes"; Mrs. Fred Baker, "Sunflower."

J. W. Fenton, "Kerry Gow," W. J. Fenton, "Uncle Sam"; Bob Casie, "Color of Gentlemen"; Geo. Ballantyne, "Indian Chief"; J. A. Vachon, "Judge"; Percy McLellan, "Pat Murphy"; F. Wright and J. McKay, "Bride and Bridegroom"; H. Oram, "Dude"; C. O. Davidson, "Fish Wife"; C. Baker, "P. T. Barnum's Best"; Douglas Clarke, "Baroness Junior"; G.W. Baker, "Trapper"; Alex Stephen, "Winter"; Sedley Clarke, "Cowboy"; Virginia McKay "America"; Gerrie Maveety, "Squaw"; Nellie Donaldson, "Flower Girl"; John Donaldson, "Good Luck"; Winnie Hobbs, "Winter"; Blanche Hobbs, "Red Riding Hood"; Beatrice Hobbs, "Starry Night"; Edith Maveety, "Lily of Babylon Cross." It was over-ought that there was no prize or "Dude" but Mr. Fenton, senior, deserves special mention. The judges were Messrs. Betts, Russell and Stalker, who performed their duties in a fair and impartial manner.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair.

PRICE'S CREAM

RED DEER HILL.

Several wells have been put down in the vicinity, nearly all with good success. Thos. Courtney sank one 42 feet and at last report there was 19 feet of water in it. A well on Albert Hodgson's place, 16 feet deep, has 4 feet of water and is 7 feet in diameter. A number of other wells have been dug in this vicinity with equally good success.

Robt. English has purchased a team from the McLachlin band.

The annual meeting of ratepayers of the Red Deer School District was held on Saturday January 12th. Many ratepayers were conspicuous by their absence. The three trustees and five ratepayers were all that were present. The reports having been read and accepted, the election of Trustee resulted in Mr. R. Giles being elected to that position. The treasurer's report showed the District to be in a good healthy state.

The proclamations of the Lieut.-Governor erecting two new school districts are not yet out.

Last Friday a young man from your town drove out to the Hill and put up for the night at a farmer's house. The next morning he was seen about two miles west of the Hill on foot. That is the last account we have of him. The owner of horse had a man out on Sunday for him.

There is no sickness in the settlement that we know of.

Roads are good now and farmers are getting out fencing material for this coming summer. H. G. Lincoln intends fencing in his quarter section, also R. W. Boylan.

On Monday last an election to fill the vacant seats on the Central School Board took place at the town hall. A great deal of interest was manifested in the election this year, friends of the candidates working with a will. Ten candidates had been nominated, four of whom retired. The bulk of the vote was between the four gentlemen mentioned below, the first three being declared elected:—T. J. Agnew, 110; J. D. Maveety, 101; J. Sanderson, 96; H. J. Montgomery, 54.

LIFE IN RUPERT'S LAND

IN THE OLDEN TIME.
By JAMES STEWART.

TWENTY-THIRD PAPER.

The only white man at Beron's river, apart from Mr. Cummings, was one William Waters, a man from Kirkwall, Orkney, a shoemaker by trade. He was a dapper little fellow, with any amount of language, rather addicted to setting forth his own exploits. But, however, that did not concern me much, I let my new friend do the speaking while I sat and listened at the same time wondering what sort of life it was to have at this place.

At first it seemed to me that it was going to be a lonely spot, but that did not trouble me much, I had several books. Mr. Cummings had a number more, and the master himself, being quite an intelligent conversationalist, I soon found myself at home.

The occupants of the men's house were Thomas Harper and his wife and two children, together with W. Waters and myself. In the master's house their resident Mr. Cummings and his wife and two young daughters, and a son about ten years of age. These all comprised the effective strength of the Fort.

Beron's river is situated on the east side of Lake Winnipeg, which place was the prettiest and most picturesque spot around the lake. The Hudson's Bay post is situated inside of a deep bay almost landlocked with the river flowing down the centre of the bay. The bay was dotted all over with a number of small islets, each one adorned with a tuft of spruce trees, looking very pretty in the summer time. The ground all round, however, is very rocky being nothing but bits of granite with mossy marshes in the lower parts covered with stunted spruce. In a place like this any attempt at agriculture is out of the question. There was a little garden at the place, but the soil was nothing but white mud which would hardly raise anything. As a consequence, at the time of my residence there it was a poor place in the way of living.

At seasons there were plenty of fish and that constituted our only diet. But there were some seasons when the catch of fish was wonderfully small and on such occasions the only thing left for us to do was to try our best to get our allowance of bread and butter and meat.

I found that at Beron's river one came more in contact with the Indians. The only Indians at Norway House were those living at Rossville, the Methodist mission station, and these were in a more civilized being brought under the influence of the gospel and had cast aside and forgotten their heathenish rites of worship. At Beron's River it was quite the reverse here the Indians were more numerous, and besides they were still in a state of ignorance with regard to the Christian religion. I was going to say they were still uncivilized, but that would be saying too much. Civilization is an abstract term, which may be employed in various ways. If I were asked whether in a time of trouble and anxiety would I rather trust to the Indian converted to Christianity, or to the native unconverted Indian, I would unhesitatingly prefer the latter.

I do not deny that much good has been done amongst the aborigines in Rupert's Land by faithful workers in the cause of Christianity, yet, no unprejudiced persons who are at all acquainted with the circumstances I speak of can deny that the Indian in addition to learning Christianity, has also learned enough of the white man's vices almost if not wholly to counterbalance any good he might have imbibed. There have been many bright examples of Christian unity among the Indians that have come under my own observation, yet when one comes to compute the amount of money that has been spent in the endeavor to convert the aborigines of Rupert's Land, one cannot help coming to the conclusion that the result has been very barren indeed. That is in real bona fide conversions.

I had no sooner got settled at Beron's River than I had to go to work, and at this time it was nearly all on the water, having to go out fishing every day. We had skills and birch bark canoes, but after going out in the canoes, I preferred them, they being lighter to handle, and much safer in a heavy sea on the lake than a flat bottomed skiff.

I well remember the first time I tried to navigate a birch bark canoe. It was at Norway House when one beautiful afternoon a few of the young hands at the fort took it in their heads to have a trial at working a birch bark canoe. I went among the rest, and after putting my hair in the middle and seeing my pockets were perfectly balanced, I went on board of a canoe and shoved off from land. By keeping pretty well balanced I managed to pull out into the bay so the longer I worked I felt more confident in my skill as a canoe man. But when I was in the bottom of the canoe I did not see it, it was too humbly a position for me. True, everybody who worked in a canoe at that time, I made sure I could do better, therefore, in order to show off my agility I stood up in my frail craft, and proposed to paddle while in this position. But, lo! and behold, the canoe shot from under me as if I had been standing on a blown bladder, whilst I took dive headfirst into the water. On coming to the surface I perceived my canoe floating right side up some distance from me. I managed to get to the shore all right while some of the others who were in the bay brought my canoe to land. But this little episode cured me of any desire to show off any more new fangled operation in paddling a canoe. The old way was the best way after all.

From the fact that the post at Beron's River was so much enclosed by the land we had a long way to row out to the fishing grounds on the lake. Therefore on windy days when the water was rough it was no small undertaking to get out to the fishing grounds.

found that at this place we were confined to two meals a day, a white fish being the allowance each man at a meal. This was plenty of fish no doubt, but where was the bread or potatoes? After, there was none of either, so in consequence it was fish for breakfast, ditto for supper and ditto for next morning at breakfast again. The reason that we had only two meals a day was because we had no time to take any more, having to start out to the lake immediately after breakfast and as a rule did not return until late in the evening, so unless we took our dinner and supper on top of each other we had no other way of making three meals a day. However it is wonderful how soon I got used to it and through time never took a thought of it. Salt was a scarce article at that time. Each servant of the company was allowed one quart of salt per year, for which he had to pay eighteen pence, or thirty-six cents. Sugar was more easily obtained than salt, as each man was allowed of that commodity twelve pounds a year, at the moderate price of one shilling a pound. Our yearly allowance of tea was four pounds a year at two shillings a pound. Our general mode of cooking whitefish was at breakfast by boiling them, and, when boiled, empty the whole affair, fish liquor and all into a tin dish, throw a sprinkling of salt thereupon and seizing our spoon fell to without ceremony. At supper time, having a little more time on our hands, we were a little more particular. After having taken the scales off our whitefish and the entrails taken out, we had it carefully washed. We attached about one end to the end and hung it up in front of a blazing fire in the chimney, where it hung until it was nicely done brown.

The surplus fish we caught were by no means thrown away. We had a lot of hungry dogs to feed during the summer which were kept at the post during the winter winter drawing the sleighs when out visiting the Indians. At Norway House there were generally kept from fifty to sixty dogs. These were not kept at the fort during the summer.

The Manitoba Free Press in speaking of the Uxbridge Piano says: They are genuine works of art, and reflect the highest credit upon the firm which has produced them. The old style of upright pianos is thrown into the shade. The Uxbridge Piano has a continuous look which will be appreciated in the playing of duets; sitting down to the piano the performer touches a lever and the keyboard is uncovered, and the hinges of the lid turn out of sight, and the instrument presents the same artistic appearance when open as when shut. The Organs manufactured by the Uxbridge company have been in use for over twenty years, and require no special description as they are so well-known and liked in the homes of the thousands over the whole world. However, the company is manufacturing a new Organ in Piano case which is having a wonderful sale. The Pianos made by the Uxbridge Piano Co. are a credit to Canadian enterprise, being equal in tone, durability and finish to the best American.

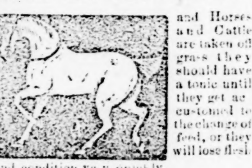

For fifty years the Weekly Globe of Toronto has had an enviable reputation as the one great Liberal weekly of the Dominion. It has always been a high class journal, and a welcome visitor in thousands of homes. The Globe's enterprise is proverbial. Its correspondents have traversed and written up almost every section of the country. All great events have been fully reported. The speeches of leading politicians, whether on the floor of Parliament or on the stump, have been presented as they were uttered, and all fairly treated, whether Liberal, Conservative or Patron. The Globe is the only weekly paper in Canada that gives full and fair reports of Parliament and proceedings, great church meetings and other similar occurrences of national and provincial interest. Among leading features of recent numbers may be mentioned speeches by Sir John Thompson, Mr. Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Marten, Mr. Haycock, members of the Ontario Cabinet, and others; letters from members of the Globe's editorial staff have travelled through the provinces of Quebec and over the route of the Trent valley Canal, interviews and letters on that most important question, the reform of the law system, long reports from the scene of the Deser-River murder, the McWhirter trial and other sensational events. The aim of the Globe is to be trustworthy. The Globe has the best cable and telegraphic service obtainable; its foreign, Canadian and American dispatches are unexcelled, and every week the whole world is brought under review. The agricultural department is right up to the times; the crop and market reports are full and reliable. Reasonable space is given up each week to lighter reading and good stories is one of the Globe's attractions. Another popular feature is the weekly contributions from the Khan's poetical pen. As a family newspaper the Globe is unrivalled.

The Winnipeg Daily Tribune, which is acknowledged to have—even by rival publishers—the largest circulation of any paper published in Canada west of Lake Superior, is now offering great inducements to intending subscribers. It can be obtained from now to January 1st, 1896, for $1—a very slight advance on the cost of the white paper used in its publication. At its regular price of $1 a year the Weekly Tribune is certainly extra value, and with the balance of this year free the offer becomes an extraordinary one. The fact that the Weekly Tribune reaches more homes than any paper published, is strong evidence that it is recognized as the great family newspaper. It publishes Dr. Talbot's sermon each week, and gives more Manitoba and Northwest news than all the other Winnipeg papers put together. This is especially interesting to the settler, as almost every district is represented. It can be had from now to the end of the year by sending $1 to the Tribune publishing Co., Winnipeg.

A boon to horsemen.—One bottle of English Spain Liniment completely removed a curb from my horse. I take pleasure in recommending the remedy, as it acts with mysterious promptness in the removal from horses of hard, set or calloused limbs, blood spavins, splints, curbs, sweats, stiles and sprains.
